News and Updates from the Fresno State OLLI

Working Remotely

We are working, just not in our offices. Here's how to reach us. Voicemail is checked several times a day - we will get back to you.

We miss you!

This has been quite a semester! First, we moved our OLLI from its longtime location, and just when we were settling in nicely, a global pandemic moved us all to our homes.

The result was cancellation of our remaining spring semester offerings as well as the summer program. Our goal is to come back stronger than ever in the Fall, and we hope you join us. We are working on refund information and will get back to you soon.

One of the biggest strengths of OLLI is bringing people together so we can learn and socialize together. And that we will do - we're just not sure when.

In the meantime, we will keep in touch, give you updates, and offer resources to enjoy in the meantime. Please read on to page two.

We'd love to hear your great ideas for things you are doing while sheltering in place. Send your ideas to: jiwagner@csufresno.edu

Cheers all! - Jill

Online Resources

There are some pretty great resources online - art, music, crafts, history - so much to learn. While we are away from each other we will share some great resources.

Love Opera? The Metropolitan Opera (New York) offers FREE nightly opera streams. Click HERE

The Great Courses is offering discounts on many of their 11,000 lectures and courses. Click HERE

12 famous museums from around the world offer free online tours. Click HERE

You can audit for free Yale's popular course on happiness at Coursera. Click HERE

Ken Burns epic documentary on Baseball is streaming for free on PBS. Click HERE

In a mood for Broadway? Some of the most beloved shows are recorded and available free. Click HERE

While it is safest to shelter in place and practice social distancing, you can take walks, hikes and drives, and go outside and enjoy spring!
