Dr. Hendrickson's Science Charcuterie

$40 Mon. | July 8, 15, 22, 29
1–2:30 p.m. | Zoom

Presenter: Dr. Kjjr Hendrickson

Sometimes, Dr. Hendrickson's science lectures have really cool scraps left over. In this class, those bits and ends become a charcuterie board of tasty science snacks. Want to know about the current hypotheses on the origins of life, if and why water swirls differently above and below the equator, or how the British military relates to carrot mythology? These topics all ended up here, along with other short, sweet answers to questions addressed in longer formats elsewhere. This will be an adventure with something for everyone. Questions and side quests are very welcome!

Funny You Should Mention It: The Evolution of TV Comedy Into the 21st Century

$40 Wed. | July 10, 17, 24, 31
10–11:30 a.m. | Zoom

Presenter: Jim McKarines

"The comedy-genre breakdown is, in fact, arguably the great artistic advancement seen on television in the last decade." That's how journalist Jennifer Keishen Armstrong saw it in 2022. Built on a foundation of "I Love Lucy," "All in the Family," "The Cosby Show," "Seinfeld," and scores of others in the 20th century, the sitcom today is as scripted as it is improved "The Office," as star-driven as it is star-making "Fleabag," as by-the-books formulaic as it is out-of-the-box innovative "It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia"; as laugh-out-loud as it is emotionally dramatic "Ted Lasso," "Atlanta". This video-heavy course tracks the changes to the form from its earlier days to today's complete upending of its writing, structure, pacing, and timing, rules, and expectations. So what's gonna be for you? "Lucy" or "Lasso?" Join the conversation!

Tai Chi

$60 Tue./Thur. | July 9, 11, 16, 18, 23, 25
10–11:30 a.m. | ED 140

Presenter: David Ortiz

A wellness exercise program for everyone and everybody, Tai Chi is an ancient Chinese style of martial arts comprised of exercises that emphasize breathing control along with whole-body movements with bent knees and slow-flowing motions. Tai Chi exercises can be modified according to physical conditions, allowing each person to perform within their range of motion. Tai Chi builds strength, and stamina and improves balance, as well as physical and mental concentration.

Cruise with Dr. Kus

$40 Wed. | July 10, 17, 24, 31
1–2:30 p.m. | ED 140

Presenter: Dr. James Kus

In four OLLI sessions, Fresno State Professor Emeritus James Kus shares his expertise in geography and archaeology and his experience lecturing on cruise ships visiting Latin America. Each week he'll acquaint us with a different destination: "The Panama Canal," "Central American Geography and Wildlife," "The Falkland Islands," and "Patagonian Geography and Archaeology."

Short Courses

Victorian Weirdness

$20 Thur. | July 11, 18
1–2:30 p.m. | Zoom

Presenter: Eleanor Schrader

The Victorian Era was a peculiar time to live in. The social-political backdrop and the life and reign of Queen Victoria had a major impact on the art and architecture of this period. The Industrial Revolution required architects to rethink their designs and adapt them to the needs of the people who were finding it difficult to survive. The life of Victorian society was often filled with rapidly changing morals, resulting in some curious, weird, and creepy oddities. This two-part lecture will give us a look at the art and architectural movements of the time, including the Gothic Revival period, the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood, and the Arts and Crafts movement, as well as some of the more peculiar designs of the period, such as hair sculptures and poisonous wallpaper.

City Girls in the Central Sierra: Fresno Y.W.C.A. Summer Camps

$15 Thur. | July 25
2–3:30 p.m. | ED 140

Presenter: Micheline Golden

In the 1920s, the Fresno YWCA opened the first local camp for young urban women. Over the next 60 years, they built three camps for thousands of Valley women at Shaver Lake, Huntington Lake, and Dinkey Creek. The camps made an indelible mark on the Central Sierra community, as well as changing the lives of three generations of young women. Join historian Micheline Golden to hear about the camps, the dedicated women who built them, and how the young women of the Central Valley embraced outdoor learning in the Sierra Nevada.

The Brown Bag Book Club

“The Women” by Kristin Hannah

Thursday, August 8 | 11:30 a.m. – 1 p.m. | ED 140 and Zoom

Moderator: Kay Davies

We’re trying something new this summer: A “read” as part of our long-running OLLI Book Club, led by educator and avid reader Kay Davies. She selected, “The Women,” Kristin Hannah’s latest best-seller. Kirkus Reviews describes this work of historical fiction as “a dramatic, vividly detailed reconstruction of a little-known aspect of the Vietnam War.” Hannah writes about women who put themselves into harm’s way near the battlefield and suffered many of the same fallout from our nation’s conflicted attitudes about that war when they returned. To participate in the OLLI Book Club, you’ll need to obtain the book from a library, bookseller, or friend; read it; and then be ready for a wide-ranging discussion. We meet over the noon hour, please feel free to bring lunch.
