U.S. - Mexico Relations: Distant Neighbors or Closer Friends?

Dr. Alex Saragoza

This lecture will examine three issues that vex the contemporary relationship between Mexico and the United States: the revisions of the former NAFTA accord; immigration and the border wall; and the illicit drug trade. The recent election of a new Mexican president, and the upcoming 2020 presidential contest in the U.S., point toward a testy, tense scenario for the relations between the two nations. The talk will also give specific attention to how the Central Valley figures in this binational context. Dr. Saragoza is a professor emeritus at UC Berkeley and a valley native.

Stories Written In Bones

Dr. Chelsey Juarez

Bones can tell more than one story about a person. The skeleton, teeth and hair can give insight into a person's life and help determine the cause of an individual's death. Forensic anthropologists can even use their research and expertise to determine where a person was born. Dr. Juarez is an assistant professor of anthropology and a practicing forensic anthropologist with 15 years of experience, performing forensic case work in California, North Carolina, Virginia, Illinois, and Missouri. She will provide an overview of what forensic anthropologists do and how they do it. The audience will then see evidence from an adjudicated death penalty case and make their own determinations based on the evidence as honorary forensic anthropologists.

Understanding Gender - Changing Definitions in A Changing World

Dr. Kathryn Forbes

Gender variation has existed throughout history and all over the world. And in every society, some people do not conform to the dominant ways of thinking about sex and gender. This cross-cultural record is instructive for it encourages us to re-examine our own ideas about gender, biological sex, and sexual identity. Come learn what scholars, especially anthropologists, are saying about contemporary understandings of gender and sexual identity. Through respectful dialogue, we will explore how gender variation in the U.S. challenges our assumptions about biological difference, behavior, and social roles.

Mark Arax is from a family of Central Valley farmers, a writer with deep ties to the land who has watched the battles over water intensify even as California lurches from drought to flood and back again. The Dreamt Land has earned critical praise and sits on two bestseller lists.

Coro Solare operates under the auspices of the Fresno Community Chorus Inc.

There are no auditions and previous experience is helpful, but not essential.

Designed to be a choir that meets only during daylight hours, Coro Solare rehearses Tuesdays from 2-4 p.m. at the Willow Avenue Mennonite Church at 2529 Willow Ave., Clovis, CA 93612. The church is exceptional with its lighting, handicap accessibility, and parking.

While there are some singalong possibilities in Coro Solare, the focus of the group is on presenting classical concerts with professional accompaniment. Yearly dues currently are $70, and members are asked to purchase their own music (typically under $25 per concert).

Friday Endurance

by Scott Kelly

September 6

PB194

A veteran of four space flights and the American record holder for consecutive days spent in space, Scott Kelly has experienced things very few have. Now, he takes us inside a sphere utterly hostile to human life. He describes navigating the extreme challenges of long-term spaceflight—the devastating effects on the body, the isolation from everyone he loves and the comforts of Earth, the pressures of constant close cohabitation, and the catastrophic risks of depressurization or colliding with space junk. But perhaps the most haunting challenge is that of being unable to help should tragedy strike at home, something Kelly knows about firsthand. Kelly’s humanity, compassion, humor, and passion resonate throughout, as he recalls his rough-and-tumble New Jersey childhood and the youthful inspiration that sparked his astounding career.

Friday Becoming

by Michelle Obama

October 4

PB194

In a life filled with meaning and accomplishment, Michelle Obama has emerged as one of the most iconic and compelling women of our era. As First Lady of the United States of America—the first African American to serve in that role—she helped create the most welcoming and inclusive White House in history, while also establishing herself as a powerful advocate for women and girls in the U.S. and around the world, and standing with her husband as he led America through some of its most harrowing moments. Along the way, she showed us a few dance moves, crushed Carpool Karaoke, and raised two down-to-earth daughters under an unforgiving media glare. In her memoir, Michelle Obama invites readers into her world, chronicling the experiences that have shaped her—from her childhood on the South Side of Chicago to her years as an executive balancing the demands of motherhood and work, to her time spent at the world’s most famous address.

Friday The Founding Mothers Who Raised Our Nation

by Cokie Roberts

November 1

PB194

While much has been written about the men who signed the Declaration of Independence, battled the British, and framed the Constitution, the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters they left behind have been little noticed by history. New York Times bestselling author Cokie Roberts brings us women who fought the Revolution as valiantly as the men, often defending their very doorsteps. Drawing upon personal correspondence, private journals, and even favored recipes, Roberts reveals the often surprising stories of these fascinating women, bringing to life the everyday trials and extraordinary triumphs of individuals like Abigail Adams, Mercy Otis Warren, Deborah Read Franklin, Eliza Pinckney, Catherine Littlefield Green, Esther DeBerdt Reed and Martha Washington and proving that without our exemplary women, the new country might have never survived.

Friday The Ravenmaster - My Life with the Ravens at the Tower of London

by Christopher Skaife

December 6

PB194

The ravens at the Tower of London are of mighty importance: rumor has it that if a raven from the Tower should ever leave, the city will fall. The title of Ravenmaster, therefore, is a serious title indeed, and after decades of serving the Queen, Yeoman Warder Christopher Skaife took on the added responsibility of caring for the infamous ravens. In The Ravenmaster, he lets us in on his life as he feeds his birds raw meat and biscuits soaked in blood, buys their food at Smithfield Market, and ensures that these unusual, misunderstood, and utterly brilliant corvids are healthy, happy, and ready to captivate the four million tourists who flock to the Tower every year. A rewarding, intimate, and inspiring partnership has developed between the ravens and their charismatic and charming human, the Ravenmaster, who shares the folklore, history, and superstitions surrounding the ravens and the Tower.

Last Day To Register: November 20

The Fresno State OLLI is proud to partner with the Sanger Chamber of Commerce for the 94th Annual Trek to the Nation's Christmas Tree. The 1700 year-old General Grant Tree was declared the Nation's Christmas Tree in 1926 by President Coolidge. In 1956, President Eisenhower declared the tree a National Shrine as a memory to honor those who have given their lives for their country. The ceremony includes brief speeches, a choir singing Christmas songs, and the laying of a wreath at the base of the tree honoring those who made the ultimate sacrifice. It's a moving and memorable ceremony.

You'll drive to the Sanger Chamber office where you'll be welcomed with treats, coffee and mimosas. From there you'll be transported via luxury bus to the Sequoia and Kings Canyon National Parks where you'll enjoy a champagne brunch at the Grant Grove Restaurant. Then, we'll bus to the parking lot near the General Grant Tree and walk about ¼ of a mile on a paved walkway to the ceremony area. After the ceremony, we return to Sanger.

Note: The National Park Service transports those with limited mobility from the base of the trailhead to the ceremony area and back. They can only take a few people at a time so if you use this service, please be patient.
